

SPIRITUAL CALENDAR

	FESTIVAL	DAY	DATE	DESCRIPTION
	Maha Shivaratri	Wednesday	2 March 2011 (times will be announced closer to the date)	Celebrated during the night and is completely dedicated to Lord Shiva, who is also known as the destroyer of evil and the remover of ignorance.
	Guru Poornima	Friday	15 July 2011 (times will be announced closer to the date)	The full moon day in the Hindu month of July-August is observed as the auspicious day of Guru Purnima, recommitting yourself to your Guru
 Saraswati	Navarathri	From Wednesday	28 September – 7 October 2011 (times will be announced closer to the date)	The Nine Nights of Goddess Shakti, called Navratri is a time for physical and mental rejuvenation and to tune in to creative energies that make themselves abundantly available during these nine nights. it represents a time of hope for humanity to realize happiness be it money, relationship or self-discovery and realization.